creativity and the poetic mind mingles the voices of well known writers such as nikki giovanni donald hall john koethe marge piercy and robert pinsky with newer voices and includes engaging excerpts from interviews with thirty eight american poets within a sustained argument about creative states of mind this book innovatively presents and explores the technique of going to the place as more reliable in writing poetry than waiting for inspiration it explains why poets frequently believe that talking about their own poetry may damage their creativity and why for centuries inspiration has seemed to come from somewhere beyond the poet in addition it discusses the practicality of poets thinking that being creative and writing poetry are two separate skills inspiration is unreliable but experienced poets create daily writing poetry combines an accessible introduction to the essential elements of the craft with a critical awareness of its historical ideological and aesthetic underpinnings the authors argue that separating the making of poems from critical thinking about them is a false divide and encourage students to delve deeper into their work by becoming accomplished critics and active readers of poetic texts the book presents a range of strategies and practical exercises to help initiate and sustain the process of making poems while also demonstrating the value of activities such as memorizing poems reading and writing about poetic traditions developing manifestos and statements of aesthetics and composing self reviews which place poems within critical context the first book designed specifically to meet the needs of students studying poetry writing in the context of criticism and literary study this is an invaluable guide to all aspiring poets in this volume jacques maritain proposes to make clear both the distinction and the indissoluble relationship between art and poetry he insists on the part played by the intellect both in art and in poetry and especially on the fact that poetry has its source in the intuitive activity of the intellect in the process of illuminating his argument maritain discusses the poetry of eliot and thomas the painting of rouault and picasso the music of bach and mozart the philosophy of plato aristotle and st thomas aquinas
